

WONDERING ABOUT RUNNING START?

- Discuss pros/cons with family- classes are challenging, count for college credit, start a college transcript, are tuition free (books and fees can still be a cost) etc.
- Look through the web page of the college of your choice in the Running Start Section. Pay special attention to the registration timelines. Here's the one for OC <https://www.olympic.edu/current-students/running-start>
- Make a copy and fill out our Running Start Advising tool and have it signed by guardian. Bring to your advising appointment with Susie

- Follow procedures for entrance at the school of your choice
- Bring passing accuplacer scores and your advising tool (above) to a Cedar counseling appointment for course recommendations.
- Look through the course offerings and compare that with your schedule (both academic and personal). Think about which courses you want to take.

- Schedule advising appointment with the college of your choice to register for college classes.
- Attend College orientation and arrange for books/logins etc.
- Be sure we have an updated copy of your RSEV form, have updated your Cedar schedule, and let us know how it's going.
- Stay in touch with your advisor. Just because you are in college doesn't mean we don't want to support you academically and personally. Please attend check ins when possible.
